Organiser Comments

For my first NSL event I thought best stick to somewhere that I know and grew up with. Turnout was a little bit disappointing but due to the fact being quite far north for most people plus being an major HOC event this weekend it was totally understandable. However everyone who did attend thoroughly enjoyed the event and thought it was an great area to orienteer around.

The terrain seemed to catch a few people out Including both of last night's winners Richard Price and Eloise Lee with 45 and 64 points lost respectfully. Winner of the "back in the nick of time award" was Adrian Bailey who timed his was only 1 second under the hour.

Many thanks to everyone who turned up (including Colin Palmer who came all the way from Ledbury) and special thanks to John Leeson for allowing myself to get my event on the NSL Calendar and to local legend Andy Hemsted for validating all of my control points.

Here's to the next one.
