As you can see, Bewdley's reputation as the premier night street event of marathon dimensions has been confirmed.

If all goes to plan, this should not be the last BIMM. I have a dream of holding the very last Bewdley International Mountain Marathon in Venice in 2007. Please let me know if you could possibly thinking of taking part. I am planning to use the Harlequin Hotel as the event centre. If you were thinking of taking part when would be the best time; low air fares, no crowds, empty weekend, low tide, but definitely a night event (but could be coupled with a day event the next day. So what about it? Please contact Russ.
