When I was looking for a Malvern venue for the 2008/9 season, I thought of running it from Neil MacKenzie's as this would allow access to the Malvern Link end of the town. Neil had done a few street events in the past, and kindly agreed to be our hosts. When this ended up clashing with Neil's commitment as joint planner for the Herefordshire schools event in Eastnor Park, Jill very generously took over the reins. I had not appreciated how sketchy the map was in the north, and I am very grateful to Jill who spent much time in mapping the missing paths and alleyways and updating the map generally, and to Neil for test-running courses and letting us use his house. Jill also prepared a sumptuous variety of goodies, which went down well amongst the animated post-race analysis and chatter.

The southerly venue attracted many of HOC's fastest, and saw the Hartmanns making a return to the NSL scene. It was great to see real competition on the Long with less than 4 minutes separating the top four, and Dave Nevell recording an impressive victory.
