Yes, indeed these courses were on the long side but at least you got value for money! Unfortunately it is difficult to avoid the undergrowth in the area and mid June is not the best month to compete here.

Apologies for the car park make-over which took place earlier today – yesterday I was able to park at the start when I hung the controls.

The final confusion that you fortunately all overcame was the relabeling of one of the permanent controls between me planning a few weeks ago and today.

The turn-out was great and made the effort of planning worthwhile. Thanks.

A final thank-you to Robert who organised the starts and timing for me while I was tied up at work.
