Lost Property: Thumb Compass - NNNavigator type - I have put it in the SEE organisers bag. I think it might be Colin Palmer's.

Mr McSweeney correctly observed that #4 on the blue course was not in the centre-line low point of the re-entrant. I collected the control and I now realise that If I had walked a little further when taping the site I would have spotted this. The kite (and long streamer of day-glo-pink-tape) was 8 metres from the “the bottom of” the re-entrant and for those running a bit low on the slope there would have been a leafy tree between you and the control site. My apologies if this cost you time. Charlie may wish to re-instate the control for Jason in which case this would put him ahead of John - both having missed one control.

Longest break between orienteering events? One of the competitors on the Orange course last competed with Messrs Brasher, Disley and Pirie - about 40 years ago.

Thank you to my control collectors - I predicting a 22:15 exit from Clent but thanks to you all I was away by 21:30. Also thanks to Robert V for checking me safely back out of the forest.
