The control codes were impossible, in the main to check, so I haven't. If you have been given a result you didn't deserve let Nigel know (I have amended the results already notified.) No controls were missing when Adrian collected the northern section as he followed Catherine on the Yellow course (Thanks Adrian) or when I collected the rest in, in the morning.

Apologies for control 21 B/4 G the map is a bit 'iffy but it was two spurs in from the path and was visible from the path. Approaching from the other direction the spur is not so clear.

In future I will not leave planning, checking and revising the map until the day before the event. All other controls were checked to be exactly as on the map. The large depression 15B / 7G' when I collected this there was a lot of trampled undergrowth to the south east of the depression where it is mapped as undergrowth.

Finally every one who turned up in such horrible weather deserves congratulation whether you finished or not, I was expecting half a dozen at most.

A big THANKS to everyone for turning up.

Thanks to Penny and Charlie for help with the dreaded Risk Assessment which thankfully was not needed on the day in spite of the weather. Thanks to those of you who in spite of the atrocious weather offered to collect controls (being Rtd. I decided to have a leisurely run round early the next morning)

Don't forget Arrow Valley 14th JUNE:
