Huge respect to all runners who turned out on a rather threatening evening. A big thank you to Rachel for hanging out controls when the weather was really nasty, to Lester for taking entries in his posh van and to the speedy collectors. Well done to the 3 Mitchellteers, especially Alex who survived an attack of vertigo at the highest point and the worry that his brothers might have caught him up to win the Yellow! Apologies to Peter who ran an extra-long Blue after some idiot (me) handed him a Green map at the start. The route choice legs seemed to have the desired effect with runners taking (nearly) all options and debating their merits at length afterwards.
