Comments from Organiser

Given the hottest day of the year (so far), with the temperature forecast to peak from 6 pm to 7pm, and a peripatetic control in Netherton Park (it was retrieved afterwards) – a gold star to all who came. Courses were kept short because of the heat.

Allan was caught out by the clear box being on the same table as the download – his time is estimated by reference to other starts and finishes.

Thanks are due i.a. to Alison Sloman for updating the map; Robert Vickers for mentoring generally, helping put controls out, and staying to keep an eye on things; Allan McKinley, Adrian Bailey and Robert Rose for collecting in the controls after sweltering runs; and to the Bumble Hole volunteers for opening the visitor centre.
