Organisers/Planners Comments

Thank you everyone for coming along to the event. The weather forecast for the evening didn't look too good at times, but eventually the weather gods smiled upon us and we had a rain free evening and stunning views from the hills – so much so that some competitors preferred to admire the view than carry on with the orienteering!

As far as the courses were concerned you all seemed to enjoy them and there was plenty of discussion on route choice at the end, which is what I aimed for. Despite the warnings about the dense vegetation in the event details, a few die-hards insisted on direct routes through the vegetation. Good on you if you did. It's a shame we didn't have full SI timing so we could compare split times for the legs; as planner I would have been very interested myself.

Finally, many thanks to Mercè for helping out at the start and finish, and Robert, Tom, Peter and Paul for collecting controls in at the end of the event, and of course to the Malvern Hills Conservators for letting us use the area.
